KIDS GO.

ANNUAL REPORT

WHY AFTERSCHOOL PROGRAMS ARE A SAFETY NET

- Research says that 3 to 6 PM are the hours when kids are most likely to engage in risky behaviors.
- Fight Crime: Invest in Kids says the #1 way to keep kids safe are high quality after-school programs.
- Experts say chances are good that high quality afterschool programs reduce not only juvenile crime but adult crime as well.*

≡ KIDS CO. FACTS ≡

- ✔ Kids Co. awards nearly $500,000 each year in scholarships to low-income kids.
- ✔ No child is turned away from Kids Co. based on their family's inability to pay.
- ✔ Kids Co. does not set caps on the number of low-income kids served.
- ✔ Over 1,400 kids attend Kids Co. each year.
- ✔ Kids Co. has 13 locations in the Greater Seattle Area.
- ✔ Kids Co. offers preschool and school age child care.
- ✔ At Kids Co., all families are welcome.

WHAT IS THE SCHOOL-TO-PRISON PIPELINE?

A disturbing national trend wherein children are funneled out of public schools and into juvenile and criminal justice systems. Many of these kids have learning disabilities or histories of poverty, abuse or neglect, and would benefit from additional educational and counseling services. Instead, they are isolated, punished, and pushed out.

DEAR FRIENDS,

There is a kind of magic inherent to the world of child care. It's a world of possibilities that's a mixture of excitement, giggles, challenges, and wonder. Sharing these moments, watching young lives grow, and helping shape their world view is part of what makes working in child care absolutely special. Whenever a student learns a skill, plays a new game, shares a story, or grows an inch, it feels like the world has produced one more cherished moment that can lead to a lifetime of goodness and success. It's the magic of children!

At Kids Co. we learn to work the magic on both good and bad days. We accept and respect that each child is unique and—no matter how a child is reared and nurtured at home, school, or in our care—there will be bouts of frustration and anxiety. Anxiety and challenging behaviors affect some kids far more than others and this is where we, as child care providers, must be well trained and prepared.

Within these pages, we'll share what made Fiscal Year 2017 special and unique, from our intensive staff training to work proactively with kids exhibiting challenging behaviors to extending the Kids Co. Scholarship Fund to enriching our programs. It was a year of successes and learning curves. It's time to fill you in on all the details!

As we reminisce about the year, keep in mind you are a big part of our success! Your support and trust in the magic of child care keeps our doors open to families of all incomes, to children with varying needs, and allows us to have a top-tier staff.

“Thank you,” is the simplest of phrases but sometimes perfect. So thank you for caring.

With the warmest of hearts,

Susan R. Brown

POSITIVE BEHAVIOR SUPPORT

— — —  AT KIDS CO. — — —

WHAT IS POSITIVE BEHAVIOR SUPPORT?

Positive Behavior Support (PBS) is a set of research-based range of strategies that are designed to prevent problem behaviors by making changes in a child’s environment while teaching socially appropriate alternative behaviors. It’s an approach that blends values about the rights of people with disabilities with a practical science about how learning and behavior change occur.

Why is this important to Kids Co.?

Over the last 10 years Kids Co. has seen an increase in the number of children enrolled in our programs who have serious emotional and behavioral needs—needs that go well beyond what child care teachers are skilled, or trained, to address. As the behaviors of some children became more and more challenging, even at times explosive, Kids Co.’s staffs were getting burned out, feeling frustrated, and leaving Kids Co. Even worse, on rare occasions the behaviors reached such extreme levels and required so much staff supervision for one child, we ultimately had to ask those families to leave. We knew we had to find a way to support our staff AND do what we can to keep these kids enrolled at Kids Co. Thankfully we found the help we needed right here in Seattle—the University of Washington’s Haring Center professional development unit. We needed their expertise to create child care environments that served all kids well, while learning new and better ways of teaching socially appropriate and acceptable behavior to the kids who struggled with that the most.

All parents want their kids to feel loved, that they are important, and that they belong. At Kids Co., we want that too. And thanks to the UW Haring Center, Kids Co. has embarked on a positive behavior support training program for our teachers based on Behaviorally challenging kids are still poorly understood and are still being treated in ways that are adversarial, reactive, punitive, unilateral, ineffective, counterproductive...

- Ross Greene, Psychologist

behavioral science research. The training program that was developed for Kids Co. by the Haring Center professional development consultants includes seminars, on-site coaching, as well as built in opportunities for Kids Co. teachers to practice what they are learning using the Prevent, Teach, Reinforce method. With support, training, and inspiration from the Haring Center, Kids Co. will increase a child's sense of belonging and positive social relationships, regardless of ability.

Young children vary widely in their skills, knowledge, backgrounds and abilities. Together, we can directly alter the course of these kids' lives by helping them learn to navigate success, working with others, doing well in school, and joining tomorrow's workforce.

Why is this type of training important to our community?

According to psychologist Dr. Ross Greene, who has taught at Harvard and Virginia Tech, without collaborative and proactive solutions, we are setting these kids up for the school-to-prison pipeline.

This includes the 5.2 million with ADHD, the 5 million with a learning disability, and the 2.2 million with anxiety disorders, but also the 16 million who have experienced repeated trauma or abuse, the 1.4 million with depression, the 1.2 million on the autism spectrum, and the 1.2 million who are homeless. "Behaviorally challenging kids are still poorly understood and are still being treated in ways that are adversarial, reactive, punitive, unilateral, ineffective, counterproductive," says Greene. "Not only are we not helping, we are going about doing things in ways that make things worse. Then what you have to show for it is a whole lot of alienated, hopeless, sometimes aggressive, sometimes violent kids."

SCHOOL-TO-PRISON PIPELINE CAN BE INTERRUPTED

Kids Co. will increase a child's sense of belonging and positive social relationships, regardless of ability.

“Kids Co. creates safe spaces that inspire wonder, curiosity, and play for kids,” and it’s woven into the fabric of our daily activities. Yes, there’s reading time, play time, and even homework time but the best time is hands-on learning aka Experiential Learning. We’re talking about:

- ✔ field trips to sporting events, museums, and local parks;
- ✔ specialty classes to promote science or cooking;
- ✔ fun child care center guests like the Reptile Man, LEGO experts, or Yoga;
- ✔ so much more!

Experiential Learning has been around since 350 BCE when Aristotle wrote, “for the things we have to learn before we can do them, we learn by doing them.” He was spot on! Introducing kids (and adults) to these types of experiences promotes social-emotional and physical development—BUT KIDS CALL IT FUN.

To enhance our program enrichment in 2017 Kids Co. launched Inspire Exploration, a 5-day online fundraiser and finished with a cool $26,877!

CHILD CARE! Nearly every working family who has young kids needs it, but what if they're having a hard time making ends meet?

WE HAVE THE ANSWER: The Kids Co. Scholarship Fund—tuition assistance for the underserved.

This is where the magic happens. Each year, Kids Co. reaches out to our generous community with an open invitation to get families the care they so desperately need.

Our most interactive fundraiser is Kids Co. Where Kids Grow. Foundations, businesses, and caring folks were asked to give and YES THEY DID! In 5-days we raised $24,183, enough to send 104 kids to a week of summer camp!

This translates to 104 smiling and thriving kids!

It's well known that kids love exciting new adventures. We're talking about a trip to POINT DEFIANCE ZOO IN TACOMA, taking the UNDERGROUND TOUR in downtown Seattle, experiencing a FERRY RIDE TO BAINBRIDGE ISLAND, and much more. The bumper is walking isn't always an option and public transit is unpredictable.

WHAT'S THE BEST ANSWER FOR SAFE, FAST TRANSPORTATION? A CHARTERED BUS!

WHAT'S THE OBSTACLE? THE COST. IT'S ABOUT $500 A POP!

With 1,400 students, this really adds up. Our solution is Get On The Bus, a 2-Day fundraiser with one mission—seeking the funds for bus rentals. Thanks to the generosity of kid-loving folks like you, we raised $5,754, enough for over 11 busses. Now the kids have the wheels to keep them moving and active.

THANK YOU.

≡ WHAT KIDS CO. MEANS TO US!

By Kids Co. Mom,
Maggie Glowacki

Two years ago, I became the foster parent of two energetic boys. I work full time so finding before and after school care was a necessity. In the fall of 2016, when the boys were seven and ten, I enrolled them into 1st and 5th grade at Adams Elementary. Luckily, I found that Kids Co. had openings, so I enrolled the boys in the Kids Co. at Adams program at the same time.

For the past two years Kids Co. has provided a place to play, create, learn, and make friends for my two boys. My boys look forward to going to Kids Co. so much that on some school days, my now nine-year-old asks, hopefully, if there's only Kids Co., or if there's school that day too—always, being disappointed when he hears that there's both school and Kids Co. Also, because Kids Co. offers so many opportunities to play and cooperate with others, the boys' have made good friends. So much so that at the last birthday party, Kids Co. kids made up the majority of the party.

During the fall of 2017, when the oldest entered middle school I was happy to learn that Kids Co is for children up to the age of 12. He chose Kids Co as his after-school program and because of his leadership abilities he was named Kids Co's first junior staff member. This past school year, He helped create the Kids Co Newsletter and he helps with the activities during the afternoon Kids Co programs.

Additionally, I never have to worry about finding different child care when school is off for fall and winter breaks, because Kids Co. has that covered and it's such a relief to know that the kids really enjoy going to Kids Co. at Adams. Thank you, Kids Co.!

SO MUCH KINDNESS AND GENEROSITY

was shared with Kids Co. during FY'17—our 28th year serving you and the rest of our community quality child care! We are very fortunate to have friends like the following businesses, foundations & organizations, and individuals.

The America's Best Charities Seal of Excellence is awarded to charitable organizations that meet the highest standards of public accountability, program efficiency, and cost effectiveness. Applicant charities must provide evidence of their program activities and demonstrate the benefit of their services. These standards include those required by the US Government for inclusion in the Combined Federal Campaign, probably the most exclusive fund drive in the world. Of the 1,000,000 charities operating in the United States today, it is estimated that fewer than 50,000 or 5 percent, meet or exceed these standards, and, of those, fewer than 2,000 have been awarded this Seal. Kids Co. is one.
